Records Indicate That Giants and White Sox Will Meet for Big Title

Struggle Between McGraw and Callahan Would Be Great Spectacle.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER. BY the end of this week the teams in the two big leagues ought to be pretty well placed for the season.

happen in the National League. It's already happened. The Red Sox are beginning to totter and fall back while the Giants are skimming ahead at a breakneck pace.

After two games in Brooklyn the Giants go down to Philadelphia for games on Wednesday and Thursday and return to the Polo Grounds Friday for a long stay.

The sudden drop in the Hilltop that has happened since the baseball season got under way has put a lot of fresh spirit in Wolpert's camp.

The Highlanders have two more games with Washington and then come the American League on Saturday afternoon game to be played at the Polo Grounds.

Word has just come from the Michigan League that the former champion, who worked as a spring catcher for the Highlanders, has a chance to win the title.

It's about time we were having an announcement about the time for starting the games. The vote has been taken and the date is set.

DOYLE'S HOMER STARTS THE GIANTS OFF IN LEAD AGAIN

McGraw's Men Put Dahlen's Dodgers at Disadvantage Early in Game.

BATTING ORDER. Brooklyn. Dahlen, 1b; Egan, 2b; McGraw, 3b; ...

WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN.—With Ames in the box and the batters hitting in their usual stride, the Giants got an early lead in today's game with Brooklyn, very much to the delight of 2,000 fans who came over from the big town.

In the opening round Doyle smashed another home run over the right field fence, duplicating his performance of last Saturday. Devore walked as a starter, and then came the big wallop that put both runs over the pan. Snodgrass walked and stole second, but Murray struck out. Becker fouled to first and Groh fled out to Dally. TWO RUNS.

The Superbas failed to score in their half, though they had an excellent opportunity. After Moran had gone out the Giants started and Smith did likewise, but Dally's poor base running caused him to be nailed at third. Dabbert then popped out to Meyer.

The Giants drew a blank in the second after they had given Brooklyn quite a scare. Meyer walked and was on first with two out when Devore smashed a long two-bagger into left. This sent the Chief to third, but Doyle was the victim of a beautiful play by Dabbert that resulted in a double play.

After two were out for Brooklyn Tooley singled and Phelps walked. North went in to bat for Knetzer but flied a high fly. After two batters had hit the dust for Brooklyn Smith walked, but was forced out on Dabbert's hot spot to Doyle.
